50X1-HUM

1. On 10 May 1952, most of the quarters in Camp Mochten at the Wissewaesser (C 52/A 74) troop training grounds were occupied to capacity. [redacted] the 50X1-HUM earth bunkers in the southwestern section of the AT firing range were occupied. Almost all troops seen had closely cropped hair or were training personnel and wore red-bordered black epaulets, with artillery tank, signal, or motor transport insignia. On 30 April, about 70 officers and 21 were engaged in firing with live ammunition with five heavy machine guns at the AT firing range. At the same time, about 30 troops practiced close-combat in a trench system south of the AT firing range. [redacted] 50X1-HUM
